

Bio: Steve Leitman has worked on environmental management issues in the ACF basin for the past years for the federal government, state government and several non-profit environmental groups, including Gainesville based Florida Defenders of the Environment. In the ACF Compact negotiations he was part of Florida's negotiating team and worked as both their water system modeler and in organizing Florida stakeholder involvement. He also teaches a class at Florida State University on the ACF basin.